Artists' Talks

In 2011 we introduced the idea of free Artists' Talks to the festival and are encouraged to continue through positive feedback from the public. Although some artists had fewer people attending, others had a full venue and an enjoyable time at their talks. We hope that you will take part again this year.

The idea is to offer a short, informal talk in your venue, (15 minutes and questions), more like a chat about art and the way you work. Alternatively you could offer a workshop. The talk/workshop would be timetabled: people will just show up at your chosen time. It is up to the artist how many bodies the venue can comfortably accommodate.

Experience showed that timing and advertising are crucial for attracting visitors. We will try to spread the events evenly throughout the week.

Talks/workshops timetables will be in the brochure and on the website. During the festival there will be Talks posters in the festival office and each participating artist will be given a poster for outside their venue.

Any questions – please contact Hilke MacIntyre hilke@macintyre-art.com
