KINGDOM SEAFOOD

The East Neuk (Scots for "corner") of Fife is home to the Fishermen's Mutual Association in the picturesque village of Pittenweem, where fresh, quality, Firth of Forth seafood has been landed for generations. The Fishermen have established KINGDOM SEAFOOD, a wholesale, retail and mail order operation to bring the fresh taste of East Neuk seafood to your door.

Langoustines, known locally as "prawns," have long been a popular seafood, with much of the local catch being exported to France and Spain, where it is often eaten by tourists, unaware of the shellfish's Scottish origins.

KINGDOM SEAFOOD offers next day delivery of fresh Pittenweem langoustines and other fish species direct to your door, carefully packaged, and adding that special touch to celebrations such as Birthdays and Anniversaries.

FRESH EAST NEUK SEAFOOD DELIVERED TO YOU DOOR YOU WON'T KNOW HOW FRESH IT IS UNTIL YOU TRY IT!

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

Welcome to the Royal Burgh of Pittenweem Festival of 2005. A festival like any good celebration is a chance to meet old and make new friends. The Festival hopes to provide such an opportunity to all.

We are presenting more venues and events than ever with a mix of the familiar and the new. As ever our intention is to provide as diverse a range of the arts as we can and we hope that everyone will find something that they can enjoy.

The Festival is dependant on the volunteers, the Friends of the Festival the businesses and all of the people of Pittenweem for their support and to them we wish to offer our thanks. It is because of their generosity and the generosity of the many visitors that the Festival can continue to grow and expand.

There are too many people to thank individually but a particular thank you has to go to Bill Gibson of Wizard Fireworks who has until this year provided the fireworks for our opening ceremony. At the end of 2004 he retired from organising firework displays and on behalf of the Board and everyone who enjoyed the fireworks over the years I would like to express our thanks and wish him all the best for the future.

The scale of the Festival is now such that we can only guarantee that the information is correct when we go to press. There may be unavoidable alterations. If so, we apologise. Where possible we will note any changes on our web site.

Our wish is for everyone to enjoy themselves and to experience a true festival atmosphere.

PATRON'S STATEMENT

The Pittenweem Festival gets bigger and bigger each year, and I am honoured to be its Patron. I know how much effort lies behind the organisation of the Festival, but I know how much enjoyment it brings to so many.

There are events, performances and exhibitions for every taste and shade of artistic opinion, all against the backdrop of a working harbour and on of Scotland's most beautiful villages. If you come once to Pittenweem, particularly during the Arts Festival, I guarantee that you will come again. This is a magic place and the Festival is a magic time. I am sure that you will enjoy both of them.

PHILIP REEVES

RSA PRSW RGI RE

We are very pleased to welcome to the Pittenweem Arts Festival the distinguished Glasgow-based artist Philip Reeves, who will be exhibiting in the Old Town Hall, Cove Wynd. Born in 1931, he studied at the Royal College of Art and was appointed lecturer at Glasgow School of Art in 1954 and was Head of Print making from 1971-91. Collage has been his chosen medium over the last four decades, and it has developed as a metaphor for his perception and portrayal of landscape. His work and teaching have had considerable influence on Scottish art. He was a founder member of both the Edinburgh and Glasgow Printmakers Workshops. Phillip Reeves has work in many public collections including the Scottish Gallery of Modern Art, Glasgow Art Gallery, Scottish Arts Council, Aberdeen, Dundee and Perth Art Galleries and the Victoria and Albert Museum. The exhibition in Pittenweem will feature around twenty of his austere beautiful works.

GENERATOR

GENERATOR is a Dundee-based organisation housed in an old warehouse in the city centre. It was established in 1996 as a non-commercial artist-led enterprise providing a network for new graduates and emerging artists from Scotland to meet and exhibit their work. A changing programme of exhibitions and installations is open to the public in their Dundee premises. GENERATOR will be curating a new, site-specific exhibition for the Pittenweem Arts Festival in The Great House, Cove Wynd. Using various art forms including video, it promises to be a new and exciting addition to the Festival this year.

JANE WILKINSON & JENNI GUDGEON

The exhibition will be a collaboration of the creative art of willow sculpture by Jane Wilkinson and the photographic images by Jenni Gudgeon exploring the process, from harvesting and soaking the willow, to weaving the structure. Resulting from a community project in the Dundee/Broughty Ferry area, a large sculpture was constructed using natural materials found along the banks of the Tay Estuary. The children were taught the skills practiced by the people living there in the past. Jenni and Jane will be exhibiting this and other works. There will also be workshops in Willow Craft see the Daily Events for details, more information will be available at the venue, the Gyles Community Centre. Venue 63

PAST TIME

An installation by artist and former pub owner John Shearer, brings together a collection of original nautical paintings and a variety of objects associated with seafaring and fishing. Some of the artworks on show are of wooden hulled 'liners' and drifters dating from the late 19th and early 20th centuries. A number were painted by East Neuk artists, who belong firmly to the tradition of 'pierhead painters'. They produced portraits of boats with a naive veracity and attention to detail for proud owners.

What makes this exhibition unique and evocative however, is that it was once part of the décor in the 'West End' where customers and visitors alike were surrounded by the reminders of a bygone era and fast disappearing way of life. It stimulated anecdotes and memories that are reflected in the visual form here. Quirky and whimsical, it is one man's tribute to the past.

Evening Cruise on the May Princess Saturday 6th August

Enjoy an evening cruise on the Firth of Forth viewing the East Neuk Villages from the sea.

After a sail round the bay, the May Princess faces Pittenweem in time for those on board to watch the spectacular display of fireworks, for the first time ever viewed from the sea.

Passengers to be at Fishmarket at 7.30pm. Sailing time around 8.00 pm from Pittenweem Harbour, east of the Fishmarket

Tickets £20.00 (Concessions £18.00, Children £15.00)

(includes a glass of wine)

Numbers are limited so booking in advance at the Box Office is recommended.

'TALES OF THE EAST NEUK'

By Nanzie McLeod

These stories and anecdotes take place throughout the 20th century and concern the inhabitants and social history of Pittenweem as well as the five generations of Nanzie's family.

She is the grand-daughter of John McGhie the artist, who painted in Pittenweem every summer from 1900 until his death in 1952. The family has owned the house at 54 High Street since 1911 and has enjoyed and marked the changing aspect of the town during more than 100 years.

The book will be launched on Saturday 6th August 10.30 – 12.00 noon and there are a number of events offering both readings from the book and poetry. See the daily events lists for details.

GROOVY GREEK STORIES!

Get involved in ancient Greek mythology. Imagine what it would be like in the Underworld, the Cyclops' cave, or the gorgon's lair in these exciting stories with teacher, writer, and director John J. Taylor. John has been touring primary and prep schools in the South East of England, and venues in Prince Edward Island, Canada, as part of theatre odyssey's 'Mythodyssey' tour. Now, he brings these tales home to Pittenweem, where he first performed the now-famous 'One-Man Odyssey' in 2002.

This is your opportunity to win a piece of work donated by one of the exhibitors. Select the work you hope to win and follow the instructions on the ticket. Most of the works will be shown at the individual exhibitions concerned. Full information can be obtained from the festival box office.

Food

Refreshments are available from the usual outlets around Pittenweem. There will also be a number of temporary outlets for tea, coffee and food. Look out for notices giving details. Amongst them Pittenweem Baptist Church Hall (venue 18) will be open each day (except Sundays) for light refreshments from 10.30am to 4.30pm.

OPEN AIR PAINTING COMPETITION

SATURDAY 7th AUGUST

Once again the Open Air Painting Competition welcomes participants of all ages. This year the registration is from 9.30am at 23 Midshore (venue 77). This popular annual event has encouraged many artists, amateur and professional, to produce a painting of Pittenweem on the spot, on the day.

The competition has been sponsored by the Halcyon Gallery, Anstruther. Prizes have also been generously donated by Trinity Arts, Pittenweem arts materials shop from whom paper, crayons, paint etc will be on sale throughout the day.

The competition begins at 9.30am and ends at 4pm. Judging and prize giving is at approximately 4.30pm on Bruces Wynd. For information and an entry form please send a stamped addressed envelope to Tim Cockburn, 23 Midshore, Pittenweem, Fife, KY10 2NL or phone 01333 310 287

The Celebration of East Neuk Seafood is aimed at helping visitors source, buy and eat high quality local produce. Throughout the summer a number of businesses in and around the East Neuk are taking part in this initiative.

We would like to once again congratulate the Arts Festival organisers on their superb achievements and we also invite you to visit the free Fish Market cookery demonstrations in Pittenweem - right at the harbour and close to many of the exhibition venues.

See, eat, linger and enjoy -
and tell all of your friends.

Klezmerduo

Klezmer is celebration music. It was played by travelling Jewish musicians as they travelled from village to village for both Jews and Christians. This music was played throughout the Baltic in the North to the Black Sea and now comes to the East Neuk in Scotland. It is brought to us by Klezmerduo, Ann-Mal Britt Fjord (accordion, vocals) and Henrik Bredholt (soprano sax, dulcimer and vocals). Together since 1987 they have played throughout Europe, winning first prize at the World Music Festival in Vejle, Denmark in 1995.

Carl MacDougall with Ewen Sutherland and Pete Clark

Carl MacDougall, as well as being the author of award-winning novels such as Stone Over Water, The Lights Below and The Casanova Papers and the editor of the classic anthology of Scottish short stories, The Devil And The Giro, Carl has become a household name as the writer and presenter of BBC Scotland's landmark eight part TV series on the history of Scottish literature, Writing Scotland. Tonight he is joined by singer, guitarist and all round raconteur Ewen Sutherland and fiddle legend and Niel Gow devotee Pete Clark.

Together, they will perform a mixture of songs, tunes and stories, all based around a theme for the evening, with the music wrapping around a piece of prose or a story providing a cue for a song. It's going to be lively, unpredictable, funny and moving, a night unlike any other. So be prepared!

Return of Fence Collective

Fence Records was founded in 1994 by singer/songwriter Kenny Anderson, primarily as an outlet for his own musical meandering, under the guise of King Creosote – but it has since managed to establish itself as one of Scotland's foremost independent labels, with an artist roster that boasts some of the country's most talented musicians (James Yorkston, Lone Pigeon, Pinkie Maclure, HMS Ginafore, The Pictish Trail and Pip Dylan to name but a few). Firmly rooted in the East Neuk of Fife, the label thrives on the output of The Fence Collective – a grouping term (of sorts) for the comprised membership of the label's composite bands and solo artists. They play live with one another, and on each others' records and generally muck in with whatever's going on.

In 2004, The Fence Collective were approached by John Lowrie to put on a week of music in the New Town Hall as part of the Pittenweem Arts Festival – and they put on a spectacular show, with a selection of artists from their label, as well as a host of acts from across Europe. Last year's event was so successful (garnering a 4-star review in The Scotsman), that the Collective have been asked to put together something for this year's festival. From Wednesday 10th until Friday 12th August, Fence will provide three evenings of musical entertainment in The New Town Hall – starting at 8pm each night. Expect every style of music imaginable – ranging from folk to pop!

Scaramouche Jones or The Seven White Masks

By Justin Butcher

Born at midnight on New Year's Eve, 1899, Scaramouche takes his old clown body – and the audience- on his hilarious and terrifying journey through the 20th century. As the champagne corks pop on Millennium Eve, Scaramouche is about to give his last and most important performance. He steps out of the circus ring, peels away his outer disguises to reveal the loves, brutalities, ecstasies and tragedies that created the Seven White Masks of Scaramouche Jones. Scaramouche Jones is David Milne, fresh from acclaimed roles as Falstaff and Gloucester at Cambridge Shakespeare Festival. He renews his collaboration with director, Bill Hopkinson and designer Nerrissa Cargill Thompson, joint winners of a Manchester Evening News award in 1999.

Scot of the Anarchic

Splinters Theatre Group

A celebration of Iain Chrichton Smith's talents as a storyteller, playwright, poet and his unique vision of Highland life and culture.

These village dramas are by turns moving hilarious and uplifting. We meet a host of fascinating characters: Sam Spaid, Mrs Napoleon, and Jimmy the Magician and Murdo - the author's alter-ego - a kind of Scottish Don Quixote tiling at the 20th century.

Following their huge success in 'For the Islands I Sing', the popular team of John Shedden, Finlay McLean and Anna Hepburn are delighted to return with this exciting premiere devised by the company.

1.30 pm

theatre odyssey presents; MYTHODYSSEY

Stories adapted by John J. Taylor; Music by Brian Craib
Fresh from a tour of the South East, including performances at the Open University with Andy's sister Hannah Craib, storyteller John J. Taylor (Artistic Director of theatre odyssey South East) brings three classic tales from Ancient Greece to life, sprinkled with magic from Andy Craib on double bass (Musical Director of theatre odyssey Glasgow).
Performances last summer in the West of Scotland included Loch Lomond Shores, the Winter Palace, and Glasgow Green, and were brilliantly received by wee tots and ancient grannies alike!

Go with Orpheus to retrieve his lost love Eurydice from the Underworld, fly with Daedalus and Icarus, and seek out the dreaded gorgon Medusa with the hero Perseus. All in the atmospheric setting of the mysterious St. Fillan's Cave, a place of imagination and excitement for John when he was but a wee boy!

theatre odyssey are a community arts organisation based in four divisions around the UK dedicated to promoting classics through the arts. In 2002 they performed the 'One Man Odyssey' at the festival to great acclaim.

Diminished Fifth

Sometimes known as Dim 5 came together in 1987, and have performed in a variety of venues from world class hotels to blues bars in Belgium along with jazz festival appearances in Bute, Leith, Edinburgh, Dundee and Kirkcudbright. Comfortable performing jazz ballads, swing, blues, bossa Nova, even the odd ragtime tune, the easy swinging style of the group and sense of fun they emit, in large part, emanates from the fact that they are a group of friends who enjoy what they do. Line up; Female vocal, piano, guitar, sax, drums and string bass.

TRAFFIC MATTERS

As we continue to grow and attract more and more people we have to try and accommodate all the visitors and allow the burgh to continue to function. We have been in discussions with Fife Council and they have introduced traffic schemes to assist.

A one way system will be in operation for the duration of the Festival (2.00 pm 5th August until 2.00 pm 14th August), that will only allow vehicles to travel south on South Loan, east on High Street, north on Kirkgate and east on Marygate.

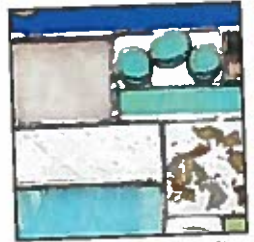

There are additional parking restrictions in place during the Festival so please check when you park. The Festival have arranged for a free bus to travel from the main Car Park to the Harbour throughout the day.
